Shelf Life kicks off the hot-dog-and-hamburger season with our own kind of product guarantee: we guarantee you will love this relish. In fact, if your jar of this succulent mash-up is not empty by Labour Day, Shelf Life will personally come over and – well, finish it for you. This is an all-natural product, with an impeccable ingredients list: cucumbers, brown sugar, onions, white vinegar, green bell peppers, apples, celery, wheat flour, salt, spices, and jalapeno peppers. The mix tastes delicate and mighty at the same time; sweet-spicy, with irresistible tang and freshness. Even better, it's not too salty. To the list of serving suggestions on the jar – fried egg sandwiches, pate, cheeses, meats, sausages, hamburgers, hotdogs – Shelf Life would add a dab in a potato salad, or in deviled eggs, or even (some people may protest here, but this condiment is up to the challenge) tuna salad. Pravica relish casts a new light on the bright green mire we've grown up with and used all our lives – the kind that looks like chopped frog. That stuff has just croaked.
